9 Real-life journeys

Manisha Raisinghani

Co-founder & CTO, LogiNext (logistics software company)

After studying engineering at the University of Mumbai and a Master's in Management Information Systems at Carnegie Mellon University, Manisha Raisinghani co-founded LogiNext in 2014. Combining her passion for coding with real logistics problems, she built software that tracks and optimises companies' deliveries, route planning, warehousing and movement of goods in real time — cutting costs for clients like D-Mart, Decathlon and Maruti Suzuki. She was named a Forbes W-Power Trailblazer. Her story shows how bringing technology and logistics together can create a 'world of organised logistics'.

Deepak Garg

Founder & CEO, Rivigo (technology-enabled logistics company)

An IIT Kanpur and IIM Lucknow graduate, Deepak Garg founded Rivigo in 2014 after nearly a decade advising the logistics and automobile sectors at McKinsey. He transformed logistics with a 'relay' model in which drivers run limited hours and return home daily, and optimised the whole network with IoT and algorithms — enabling faster, more reliable and more humane freight movement. His company reached over 4,000 cities. His story shows how a thoughtfully built logistics network can reshape an entire industry.
