6 What the work is like

WHERE YOU WORK

Warehouses, construction agencies, builders, civil engineering companies and large infrastructure project sites.

WORK CULTURE

Typically 5-6 days a week, 8-9 hours a day; shift duty and overtime are common. The work is mainly at the store/warehouse but involves moving around the site. This field also offers opportunities for persons with disabilities.

WHO HIRES

- | | |
|---|--|
| • Construction and infrastructure companies and builders | • Real estate developers and civil engineering firms |
| • Indian Railways (Stores Department) and railway workshops | • CPWD, Rajasthan PWD, Military Engineer Services (MES) and municipal corporations |
| • Construction material suppliers and warehousing companies | • Defence-sector PSU stores (e.g. BHEL, HAL) |

DEMAND (2026)

Infrastructure projects like roads, metros, housing and smart cities are expanding rapidly in India, so every large site needs a store keeper for material management. Alongside private builders, government bodies such as Indian Railways, PWD and MES also recruit store keepers, making it a stable career.

7 Career growth

- 1 Assistant Store Keeper (Construction)
- 2 Store Keeper (Construction)
- 3 Store In-charge / Store Officer
- 4 Materials / Warehouse Manager

EARNINGS

Starting	₹12,000–16,000/माह
Mid level	₹18,000–28,000/माह
Senior level	₹30,000–45,000+/माह

Per AmbitionBox, a Construction Store Keeper earns roughly ₹15,000–26,000/month. With experience, becoming a store in-charge or materials manager raises income considerably; government jobs (Railways/PWD) offer better pay scales and stability.

8 The good parts · The challengesThe good parts

- Stable, trust-based work in the growing infrastructure industry
- Opportunities in both government (Railways/PWD) and private sectors
- A clear path to grow into a materials manager with experience

The challenges

- Accountability for record errors or missing materials
- Dusty, hot site conditions and long hours
- Pay can be limited at the entry level

Md. Ramjan Momin

India's Bricklaying competitor at WorldSkills Kazan 2019

From a modest background, Md. Ramjan Momin trained so hard in construction skills that he was chosen to represent India in the Bricklaying trade at the 45th WorldSkills Competition in Kazan, Russia in 2019, where young people from 63 countries competed. His story shows that even from a humble start in the construction industry, skill and discipline can build national and international recognition and a stable career — whether the route is bricklaying, material management or store keeping.

Valsala

Experienced woman mason, Archana Women's Centre, Kerala

Valsala, from Kottayam district in Kerala, is one of the most experienced women masons at the Archana Women's Centre. In construction — long treated as 'men's work' — she and her fellow women led the building of the Centre's own main structure, proving that women too can build skilled, self-reliant careers in the construction industry. Her journey inspires every girl who wants to grow in trusted site roles like store keeping, masonry or material management.
